TRAT

WHAT TO SEE

Wat Bupharam

Located in Moo 3, Pattanakan Plui Klong Rd., Tambol Wang Krajae, the temple was founded in 1652 in the reign of Phra Chao Prasat Thong of Ayuthya.

An ancient uposatha hall, Buddha's footprint, Buddha image, ancient pagodas and Buddha relics within the monastery await visitors to appreciate.

Wat Yotha Nimit

Also known as Wat Bot, is located on Thetsaban 4 Road near the city pillar. With fine murals in its former Ubosot, the temple was once used as the site for oath of allegiance ceremony by government officials since the time of King Tak Sin. The rite was shifted Wat Phai Lom by King Rama V.

Residanggampont Residence

On Lak Mueang Road is an old 3-storey building once used as the residence of the French governor when the town was occupied in 1904-1907. Subsequently, it was turned into the residence of Trat governors since 1928.

TRAT

WHAT TO SEE

Klong Kaeo Waterfall

Klong Kaeo Waterfall National Park in Bo Rai District occupies 65,525 rai. This area is rich in various kinds of plants. Klong Kaeo is a seven-levels waterfall and each level has its own attraction which is different from each other.

Haat Ban Chuen (Ban chuen Beach)

Situated between km. 59-60, before reaching Klong Yai city. Hat Ban Chuen is admired for the powdery and longest beach in Trat.

Ban Nam Chiao (Nam Chiao Village)

It is a community 8 kms. From Trat's city on the Trat-Laem Ngop rd.

This village is famous for the headwear called "Nhop Nam Chiao." Ngop is the local product made of bamboo and palm leaves; furthermore, Ban Nam Chiao is also a good place to purchase the shrimp paste, dried shrimp, etc.

Ban Haat Lek (Haat Lek Village)

It is the border of Thailand and Cambodia at Klong Yai District. Haat Lek Village is the ideal place to purchase inexpensive goods from abroad. At this point, the panorama of Cambodia can be seen. Haat Lek Village is also the permanent spot where tourists can pass to Cambodia or Thailand. There are immigration offices of both Thailand and Cambodia at this point where tourists can get a visa to Cambodia.

The Narrowest Point of Thailand

Located on the Trat- Khlong Yai Road, at km. 81-82. It is only 450 meters from Banthat Mountain to the coast of the Gulf of Thailand.

Haat Sai Dam (Black Sand Beach)

This place suits tourists who love ecotourism and the most attractive aspect of this area is its healthy ecology and black sand beach.

Ao Cho (Ao Cho Village)

Located on Laem Sok Sub District, Muang District. Cho Bay is the location of Ao Cho Village. It is interesting to see people living in the village near the sea, the villagers who are mostly fishermen. There is no beach for swimming.

Hello Welcome...to Koh Chang

A small province at the eastern-most frontier bordering on Cambodia with the Khao Bantat mountain range forming a natural demarcation, Trat is a resort town with over fifty large and small off-shore islands, long white sandy beaches and unspoiled coral ranges. It is also a major fruit-growing and fishing area.

About 315 kilometres from Bangkok and covering an area of 2,819 square kilometres, the province is administratively divided into the districts Mueang Trat, Khao Saming, Laem Ngob, Klong Yai and Bo Rai, and the sub-districts of Koh Chang and Koh Kood

Chang is the largest island in the Gulf of Thailand and Thailand's second largest island from Phuket. At the heart of the island is full of high mountains and tropical rain forests which are the source of rivers and waterfalls. The east of the island facing the main land is the sediment area being brought from Trat River. It is consequently, making the fertile fish area where many fishermen villages are located especially at the estuary. A lot of beautiful beaches are located at the west facing the sea.

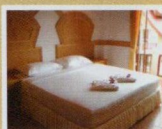

Nowadays, transportation to and within the island has been improved. A lot of hotels and resorts as well as bungalows are found anywhere and will increase very soon including complete facilities such as bank, post offices, internet service, restaurants, shops, mini-marts, 7-eleven, filling stations, beauty salons, bars, tattoo etc. Local villages including homestay villages are mostly located at the east of Koh Chang.

Koh Chang today has still been the island of beautiful natural attraction either mountains, forests or sea with various activities to enjoy during the days of relaxation.

Relaxed like floating on air. This is all you need to be at
Koh Chang
Thai Garden Hill Resort

The Luxury new opened resort, surrounding by the peaceful of lush, tropical plant life, and a seemingly endless wonderful environment of Koh Chang with the Thai-Bali style decor.

FACTS ABOUT KOH CHANG

Photographic Facilities

Most Popular brands of film are available in Koh Chang and processing is common. The best operation on the island is Kodak. They have the only Digital Minilab, offers express processing of normal or APS film. Digital to print, film to print, digital to CD and film to CD.

Postal Services

The post offices are usually open from 08:30 a.m. to 15:30 p.m. The Thai post service is usually reliable. Important items can be sent by Express Mail Service (EMS) via the Post Office.

Telephone Services

International calls can be made from most major hotels, some internet shop and some travel agents. For international direct dialing (IDD), dial 001 + country code + area code + phone number.

E-mail Services

There are also several Internet Cafes in the small communities around the island and especially in the more developed tourist locations. For those with a laptop computer, access to internet service providers is possible through one of the many computer shops throughout the island.

Climate

Tropical and humid, with three seasons: Winter starts from November to February. Hot season begins from March to April. And rainy season commences from May to October.

Travel & Tour Services

There are many agencies that offer travel and tour services across the island. Most just recommend tour operations that pay the highest commission and not necessarily for providing the best service.

Fun for all

As a beach resort with island status, Koh Chang has something for everyone. Where as most other beach resorts rely simply on natural surroundings for their charm, Koh Chang makes an all-out attempt to provide the best of everything. There is just about everything you can think of for recreation, entertainment, sightseeing and fun. Koh Chang can be whatever you want it to be. Such is its variety that it is ideal for all kinds of visitors. While there is plenty to keep the children happily occupied, there is also everything for the sports enthusiastic, for couples of all ages seeking rest and relaxation and for those who are simply looking for warm sunshine.

A MAGIC ISLAND OF THAILAND
KOH CHANG
WHITE SAND BEACH

ATTRACTIONS

NORTHERN ROUTE

Klong Son Bay which is rich with coral lines is in the northern most of the west coast.

SOUTHERN ROUTE

Nava Battle Area is in the south of Koh Chang close to Salak Phet.

Than mayom Waterfall has three levels all of medium size. The footpath up to the site, situated 500 meters from durian orchard, is near the office of the national park.

Klong Plu Waterfall has three levels. The entrance is 3 Km. from Ao Klong Prao Community. It will take about 20 minutes from the entrance to the site by walking.

Klong Nonsi waterfall is a little fall in the northeast zone of the island. The side walk to the area lies 3 Km. from Bann Dan Mai.

Khiri Petch Waterfall has one level. The place is situated 3 Km. from Salak Petch Community along orchard of rubber trees.

Klong Neung Waterfall is near Khiri Petch Waterfall.

Bang Bao Fisherman Village is very interesting because residents in the area build up their houses with poles pitched into the sea and the bridge reaching to every house is set up to link the community together. The pier at Bang Bao is nearest to the diving area with the boat service leaving everyday.

Salak Phet Bay encircled by the hills with an exit to the sea at the end. The edge of which is located the village by the sea of the locals there.

BEACH ROUTE

View point White Sand Beach, Laem Chaiyachentl, Kai Bae Beach, Long Beach.

White Sand Beach is one of the longest beach on Koh Chang. At the back of the beach are orchard of coconut trees and forests. White Sand Beach is like the tourist center being the first destination and also the well developed beach before others.

Laem Chaiyachent - Klong Prao Beach is the long seaside adjacent to Kai Bae Beach. The Beach is rather steep. Swimming is possible. The northern most of Klong Prao Beach is adjacent of Laem Chaiyachet which has beautiful landscape but swimming is not recommended.

Kai Bae Beach is steep but swimming is safe. Kai Bae Beach is still a famous beach for tourists who do not like crowds. The place is also a nice viewpoint for sunset with a clear view of Koh Man Nok, Koh Man Nai, Koh Yuak and Koh Pli beautiful especially at dusk.

Lonely Beach - Tha Nam Beach - Bai Lan Bay has a peaceful setting ideal for tourists who do not like crowds. There is a tiny sandy beach in alternation with a stony beach, possible to swim in some spots. This is the only bay in the west of Koh Chang where mangrove forest remains to be seen.

NEARBY ISLANDS

Koh Khum is proper for fishing. The landscape comprising stone yare is worth a visit.

Koh Lao ya lies at the south of Koh Chang. The group comprises Koh Lao Ya Nok, Koh Lao Ya Klang and Koh Lao Ya Nai. The islands has beautiful beaches, crystal-clear water a colourful corals.

Koh Wai situated next to Koh Lao Ya is a big island most of beach which are plenty with stones. The area occupies many bays which has beautiful beach lines and wide wonderful coral zones. Koh Wai is also the best source for fishing.

Koh Prao is in front of Salak Petch Bay. Koh Prao has clean and calm seaside and is cool and shady because it is plenty of coconut trees.

Koh Ngam is situated in the south of Koh Chang. The place comprises of two island with a huge sand knoll at the middle.

Koh Kood is the farthest island from the coast of Trat. It's size ranks as the fourth of all Thailand's island or the second to Koh Chang in Trat. It's natural features include mountains and plains where many streams originate and some become waterfall. One famous waterfall in Nam Tok Klong Chao flows all throughout the year. It is an ideal place for swimming, there are beaches with crystal-clear sea popular among visitors.

Koh Maak is a large island located between Koh Chang and Koh Kood. Most of its plains area is coconut plantations. Long beaches and crystal-clear sea are the splendid attractions of the island.

Koh Kradad is situated northeastern away from Koh Maak. Formerly, the area was abundant with Kradad trees; hence, the name of the island.

Koh Rung has not enough flat area suitable for the setting up of any resort and bungalow.

Koh Kra is place of concessions of bird nests, Charmed eggs and bat's dung. Stone knolls and deep-water coral under the sea of Koh Kra are very magnificent.

Nangnual Seafood

Thai Food & Seafood

Nangnual Seafood is a traditional Thai restaurant specializing in seafood dishes. A great place to come and relax and experience local food, especially Tom Yam Talay which is one of the best on the island. Nangnual Seafood also caters for large groups who want to try a little bit of everthing an share like traditional Thai families. Being a family run business all you have to do is ask as nothing is too much trouble. If you're not used to eating real spicy food then just ask the chef to keep the chilies to a minimum and you'll still receive the sweet, sour, salty combinations with just a touch of chili that makes Thai cuisine so special.

 INVITO

The Art of Fine Dining

From being a backpacker's hideaway to hopping on the fast track to package tour paradise, there's no doubt that the face of Koh Chang is changing rapidly. Island-wide boutique resorts, trendy spas and upscale restaurants are opening to cater for the needs of a new breed of tourist. One of the first restaurateurs to take note of the change in visitors' tastes and their demands for a more sophisticated dining experience was Patrik Malmstrom, owner of Invito Italian Restaurant on White Sand Beach.

Whilst Koh Chang has long had plenty of excellent beachfront seafood restaurants and plenty and of roadside eateries serving Thai dishes, there was never anywhere discerning diner could enjoy dishes such as 'Foie Gras' or 'Ossobuco con Pomodoro e Gremolata'

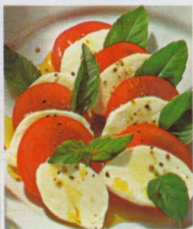

And so, Invito came into being. In the three years since opening, Invito has earned a well-deserved reputation, amongst both tourists and expatriates alike, as Koh Chang's premier restaurant. Situated in a convenient, easily accessible location at the southern end of White Sand Beach, customers can dine in the stylish bar area or in a lush garden setting with Balinese decor.

Attention to detail and providing clientele with dishes that conjure up the real taste of Italy is paramount to Invito's success. From the smiling, attentive staffs who greet you as you enter the terrace, to the well-crafted menu that highlights signature dishes prepared using only the freshest organic vegetables and imported ingredients, Invito has the satisfaction of customers in mind from the moment they arrive.

Glancing through the menu diners are faced with selections from across Italy; from well-seasoned southern Italian dishes to the north's famous risottos and delicious desserts. You'll find something to suit every palate, including specialties of the house and fresh homemade pasta and bread. And if that isn't enough to get your mouth watering you can always choose from over 30 varieties of traditional and special pizzas, cooked individually to order in the island's only wood fired pizza oven. Needless to say, an extensive wine and cocktail list is available to complement your choice off the menu.

Memories of your time on Koh Chang will stay with you long after you have left the island, memories of the pristine beaches, of the jungle clad mountains, and we hope, of an unforgettable dining experience at Invito.

Herbs For Thai Cooking

Lemongrass (ta krai)

This aromatic herb is used in curry pastes, stir-fries and soups. The base of the plant is used, and the green leafy part discarded. It comprises an indispensable ingredient in Thailand's famous tom yam dishes.

Ginger (khing)

Ginger is variously used as a food and in flavouring. It has a slightly sharp flavour and a sweet, woody aroma. Thought to resemble a deer's antler, "ginger" comes from the Sanskrit word ginabera, meaning "shaped like a horn". Ginger can be eaten raw or cooked, and is widely used in many Asian cuisines.

Kaffir lime (bai ma krut)

The leaves, peel and juice of the kaffir lime are all commonly used as flavourings in Thai cuisine to impart a unique flavour. They can be finely chopped and used in salads, or torn and added to soups and curries.

Galangal (Kha)

Another relative of ginger, galangal has a distinctive peppery flavour. Greater galangal is a sturdy, aromatic rhizome commonly used in Thai cooking as a flavouring. It can be eaten either raw or cooked.

THAI COOKING

Fried Rice Chicken (Khao Phad Kai)

Ingredients:-

- 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup Left over rice, at room temperature
- 1 cup Chicken
- $\frac{1}{2}$ cup Vegetable oil
- 1 whole Egg
- 6 Spring onions, chopped
- 2-3 tbsp. Fish sauce
- 1 tbsp. Ground white pepper

Preparation:-

1. Heat oil in a wok or saute pan. While the oil is heating, beat the egg in a bowl.
2. Add the beaten eggs to the hot oil and scramble to a soft scramble stage by stirring constantly.
3. Add cold (left over) rice to the wok or saute pan and stirfry to heat up the rice and spread the scrambled egg evenly over the rice.
4. Once the rice is hot, add chopped spring onions. Toss and season with fish sauce and pepper. Serve this fried rice with sliced cucumber and spring onions. This dish usually accompanies other main dishes which are eaten Thai style.
